ABOUT ME

Proactive and people-focused Full Stack Developer with 4-5 years of experience in building and optimizing web applications. Known for strong leadership skills and the ability to foster a collaborative work environment, I am driven by continuous learning and innovation. Throughout my career, I have worked with a diverse range of technologies, and my robust technical and practical skills enable me to quickly adapt to new tools and frameworks. I bring expertise in designing scalable, secure systems and enjoy collaborating closely with teams to deliver solutions that meet both technical and business needs. Always eager to take on new challenges and lead initiatives that drive success.
